Elijah Bush was, last week, sentenced for a term of 21 years in the penitentiary for the murder of Jeff Duff here over a year ago. The case was moved to Lee county on a change of venue.

The Central States Bridge Co. has been awarded the contract to build the railway bridge over the Kentucky river for the Kentucky Lumber & Veneer Co. It is to be a 185-foot steel construction.

Ben Wells died at his home at Stanton last Wednesday a week ago after a long illness. Mr. Wells was well known here, having served as agent at the L. & E. depot at this place for several years.

Sunday service at the Baptist church at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Rev. W. H. Setzer, Pastor. Morning subject, "Easter, its Origin and Effects," evening subject, "Redemption." Everybody welcome.

The hen that lays is the hen that pays.

We have them. Eggs for hatching from pure bred, single comb, Brown Leghorns.

M. & M. HAGINS.

Some one, on last Wednesday night, shot and killed one of W. H. Whittaker's bird dogs. This was a valuable dog and the party that did it ought to be punished. Had he killed some of the worthless curs prowling on our streets he should have had a chrono.

W. Z. Eubank, of Kiddville, was here Thursday. He has been employed by the various log companies on this river for several years as log detective. He says that log stealing in this county has practically ceased since the Hogback administration began.

The body of James Combs, who was drowned near Beattyville Junction, was found last Monday near where he fell in the river. His remains were brought here on the L. & E. train Monday evening and were taken by wagon to Hazard, his former home, Monday night for burial.

We have made arrangements by which we can send you the Louisville Daily Herald and The Breathitt County News, both one year for $2.00. The Herald has from 8 to 12 pages daily. This offer is liable to be withdrawn at any time; so you had better take advantage of it at once. The blank paper would cost you much more than this.

The jury in the case against Riley Coldiron, charged with perjury returned a verdict of not guilty after nine minutes deliberation on last Tuesday. Coldiron was indicted by a grand jury of this county about two years ago for perjury alleged to have been committed in the investigation of the Cockrill murder. The case was moved to Lee county on a motion for a change of venue made by the defendant and was tried there Monday and Tuesday.

R. A. Hurst, who has been suffering with rheumatism, is able to be out on the streets again for the first time since last November.

J. R. Blake and E. P. Landrum opened up their new store at the mouth of Lost Creek last Saturday. Sam T. Landrum is the manager.

Robert Thomas and J. H. Newland have entered into a partnership in the plumbing business. They will also do all kinds of tin and iron roofing and repair work.

Ollie Hadden and wife have quit housekeeping and have engaged board at the Ewen Hotel in South Jackson, which is more convenient to Mr. Hadden's place of business.

Blaine Short, grandson of Judge W. H. Blanton, returned to his home here after a three year's service in the U. S. army. Dan Short has also served out his time of enlistment and returned to his father's home at Berea.

At the head of our columns today will be found the announcement of Hon. A. F. Byrd as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district. Mr. Byrd needs no introduction to the people of this district, as his name and fame is known all over this State. He was born and raised in Wolfe county and served this district as Commonwealth's Attorney from 1897 to 1903, faithfully and efficiently. He afterwards moved to Winchester where he has since been engaged in the practice of law. If elected to the position he seeks he promises faithful and efficient service.

The Fiscal Court Meets.

The Fiscal Court met Wednesday with Judge S. S. Taulbee presiding and the following Justices: H. F. Davis, J. C. Hurst, S. H. Herald, J. M. Denton, J. B. Noble, John Brown and G. P. Back. The main business before the court is the settling with the Sheriff and Treasurer and ascertaining the financial condition of the county. The court is still in session as we go to press. One of the first acts of the new court was to take insurance on the court house, which had been neglected for some time. They also inspected the jail and will take steps to have the needed repairs done in the near future. We will be able to publish the full proceedings of the court next week.

Proceedings of the Presbytery.

MANY MEMORIALS.

There are many memorials erected to commemorate the deeds of those who have passed on, but whatever their form may be, no person of natural sentiments feels like dispensing with a suitable marker to designate the last resting place.

Don't waste time looking around—come here first. I have the monument you want.
